About Us

LEVERAGE

When trading Forex, traders and investors can take advantage of the leverage available. Leverage can work for you and against you. With leverage of 100:1, traders can control trade size 100 times bigger than their capital. For example a USD 10k account would enable traders to buy and/or sell USD 1 million worth of currencies.

24 HOUR MARKET

Forex market opens 24 hours a day, five days a week. Market opens on Monday in Australia and continues to New York close on Friday afternoon. FX traders and investors can choose when to trade and customize their own trading schedule.

MAJORS CURRENCIES:- EURUSD, GBPUSD, AUDUSD USDJPY, USDCHF, NZDUSD, USDCAD

These are very valuable resources for investors and traders who would like to test their trading skills and systems with “hypothetical” money before opening a live trading account and risking real money. Before opening a live trading account, it is recommended to practice first using this demo account.

Investors/traders should familiarize themselves with the trading platform and how the currency market fluctuates. By taking advantage of this offer, you can get the feel of the market before committing your hard-earned money for trading. Please remember that these demo accounts are meant to familiarize you with the trading platform, trading orders, price movements etc. Placing an order in “real” versus “practice” account are 2 very different things. Thus investors/traders should never assume that profitable practice account is indicative of future results with real account as the markets are always ever changing.

HOW FOREX WORKS?

Forex trade allows a person to buy a particular currency at a price and sell the same later as and when its value increases. For instance, if you have one Great Britain pound, which amounts to approximately two American dollars, exchanging the GBP for US dollars will be a huge profit for traders.

The exchange rate of the currencies keeps on changing every minute. Forex trading leads the market with the average daily trading volume being over $5 trillion. Thus, FX trading is considered as the largest and most liquid market in the world. The average trading volume of the stock market, which appeared to be one of the most profitable businesses so far, does not record revenue that high.

FACTORS LEAD TO CURRENCY FLUCTUATIONS

CENTRAL BANKS:

Central banks hold 10% share of the overall trading volume. They are the key forex players because they can intervene to defend their currencies.

BROKERS:

Brokers work indirectly. They help clients in trading with world's largest markets. Hence, this makes them a key forex player as well. Brokers holds 5% of the overall forex transactions.
